HELLO

IT'S SONGAE

I'm here without dying yet again.
I wasn't confident if I could make it this far... and now the webcomic is up to the 125th chapter!

Thank you for being with me until now

There were new characters this season

With all these new characters and new scenes
I was worried a lot but I'm glad you liked it.
Please continue to enjoy it.

This season felt especially long—
it was hard on me personally.
But I managed to get through it thanks to you,
Lord readers and your support.

I'll take a little bit of hiatus and return in March
I'll make an effort to come back much better
